Summary of Program Highlights

The Centre for Military and Strategic Studies (CMSS) Security and Defence Forum (SDF) Program at the University of Calgary (U of C) remains committed to promoting and developing excellence in military, security and defence studies, and elevating its profile as a leading Centre of Excellence in North America. The Centre remains committed to the promotion of advanced research, teaching and outreach, and nurtures a healthy interest in security and defence-related issues among Canadian students as well as in the general public.

In August 2009, the Centre secured a new $1 million donation. One condition of the gift is that CMSS be reviewed externally every three years. The fundamental purposes of the review are to: help achieve and maintain the highest possible standards of excellence in research and teaching; document the quality of CMSS relative to comparable units nationally and internationally; provide students with an opportunity to have independent input into program evaluation; provide information to senior university administrators and deans to guide the allocation of resources and offerings of degree programs; and meet public accountability expectations through a credible, transparent and action-oriented review process. Dr. Michael Hennessy, Professor of History and War Studies, Dean of Continuing Studies, at Royal Military College of Canada, and Dr. Harvey Sapolsky, Professor of Political Sciences, Emeritus, at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, conducted a review of CMSS in December 2009. They concluded:

“We believe the CMSS to be a very successful centre of excellence offering both a high quality graduate program and excellent research output. The CMSS is well vested in the structure of the University of Calgary with a dynamic research, publication and teaching agenda, and with a strong national and growing international reputation. Its distinctiveness nationally comes from combining military history with serious work on current security issues, something almost unmatched in Canada and something that puts the Centre in a league with such distinguished programs as those at Kings College, University of London, Yale University’s strategic studies program or the security studies consortium of Duke and University of North Carolina in the United States. The CMSS is an effective, well regarded academic unit at the University of Calgary.”

Dr. Michael Hennessy, Dean of Continuing Studies, Royal Military College of Canada
Dr. Harvey Sapolsky, Professor of Political Science, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

The reviewers noted that the library services provided for CMSS, and especially the joint initiative to support and develop The Military Museums, Canada’s largest tri-service Canadian Forces museum, are in fact outstanding.

The evaluators raised a number of issues, reflecting opportunities, in the spirit of offering constructive advice regarding the Centre’s relationship with the Canadian Defence & Foreign Affairs Institute (CDFAI) and the University’s newly formed School of Public Policy (SPP), the Centre’s graduate program, relations with other Departments at the University, and the Centre’s research agenda. The Centre is examining the recommendations and remains committed to attracting and retaining high quality faculty, attracting and developing high quality students, attracting a healthy level of external research funding, and maintaining a high external and international reputation.

Engagement in SDF Program Activities

On the U of C campus, the Centre continues its close cooperation with the Faculty of Social Sciences, the Faculty of Graduate Studies, the Departments of History, Political Science, and Anthropology, the Israeli Studies Program, the Arctic Institute of North America, and the School of Public Policy.

The Centre's faculty, associates and graduate students sustained a strong publication record and remained active in print, broadcast, and radio interviews with the media, raising the profile of the Centre and the SDF program.

The Centre was pleased to host Dr. Or Honig, J.L. Granatstein Post-Doctoral Fellow and exchange students from the Helmut Schmidt University, University of the Federal Armed Forces in Hamburg, Germany.

Graduate students remain a high priority for the Centre, both in providing competitive funding packages and in creating opportunities for conference participation and research travel. A record number of high quality applications were reviewed by the Graduate Committee in 2010; 67 applications for Masters and PhD positions. Admission offers for September 2010 have been made to outstanding MSS and PhD applicants.

The Centre continued its support of the Calgary Model United Nations Team (UCMUNT) and the 12th annual Strategic Studies and Security Consortium Student Conference, "New Strategies for Security: New Solutions to Old Problems."

Co-Directors of the Peacebuilding, Development and Security Program, Dr. Hrach Gregorian, President, Institute of World Affairs, and Lara Olson, University of Calgary, offered a graduate course for a second year entitled Relief, Development and Security: The Challenges of Coordination in International Peacebuilding. PDSP's two-year international research project, Building Durable Peace: Enhancing Interagency Relationships in Peacebuilding, examines cross-sectoral and inter-agency coordination in international peacebuilding missions/peace operations. The project will produce operational frameworks and publications to improve coordination policies and practice amongst civilian and military agencies engaged in international missions.

Cooperative relationships with the Royal Military College of Canada, the Canadian Forces Leadership Institute, DND Public Affairs, the Canadian Defence & Foreign Affairs Institute and other SDF Centres continue to benefit both faculty and students.

The open-access electronic journal, Journal of Military and Strategic Studies (JMSS), continues to receive increased attention. In 2009, two new sections were added, 'Commentary' and 'Notes from the Field', taking advantage of the electronic format to encourage interactive debate on security issues. The JMSS receives approximately 100 manuscripts each year of which approximately 50% are published. Over the past year, an average of 100,000 sessions per month have been logged, and downloads from the site grew to an average of 90,000 pages per month, a substantial increase from the previous year. The Journal is supported by a three-year Aid to Scholarly Journals SSHRC grant.

To enhance awareness of security and defence issues among the general public and to contribute to the public policy debates and public education on defence and security issues, the Centre expanded its publication series, Calgary Papers in Military and Strategic Studies. This hardcopy journal is now published under the University of Calgary Press banner. There have been delays with the transition to the U of C Press, resulting in fewer publications for 2009-2010. A publication, "Censorship; the Canadian news Media and Afghanistan: A Historical Comparison with Case Studies", by Dr. Bob Bergen, was released in 2009.

Funding

Funding from SDF and external donations have provided support for Chairs, Doctoral and Masters scholarships, support staff, research and teaching, Postdoctoral Fellowships, publications, and conferences. This funding has been instrumental to the Centre's success.

The Centre's budget for 2009-10 totalled over $1 million. Graduate students were awarded more than $435,000 in scholarship and research awards. Funding from SDF, the University of Calgary, donations, and conference support, allowed the Centre to focus on teaching, research, and outreach activities.

The $1 million donation received by the University in August 2009 in support of CMSS, stipulates that Dr. Bercuson will remain as Director for the duration of the gift agreement (2010-2015) and that a national search be conducted in 2014 to succeed Dr. Bercuson. A matching donation is being sought from another foundation and the University has engaged on a multi-year campaign to raise $20 million over the next five years, in cooperation with the Canadian Defence & Foreign Affairs Institute and the School of Public Policy.

2010-2011 Priorities

In support of the University's strategic priority to enhance high-quality graduate programs, graduate students remain a high priority for the Centre. Recruiting high quality students and establishing a competitive funding package is essential for elevating the Centre's profile as a leading Centre of Excellence in North America. Funding available through the SDF International and National Conference Funds assists considerably in recruiting top-quality graduate students and post-doctoral fellows.

Closer collaboration with CMSS Fellows, cooperation with RMC and other DND organizations, continues to be a priority for CMSS. Collaborative research projects to strengthen alliances with other institutions in Alberta, across Canada and internationally is a priority for the Centre's plans for research growth.

Dr. Anne Irwin, Chair in Civil Military Relations, will be retiring from the University of Calgary as of June 30, 2010. The University has committed to replacing Dr. Irwin, and recruitment for a joint appointment with CMSS and the Department of Anthropology will be completed in the coming year.

In cooperation with the Chief, Reserves and Cadets, Canadian Forces, the Department of National Defence and the Canadian Defence & Foreign Affairs Institute, CMSS will co-host a conference in April 2010, The Canadian Reserves on Operations: Lessons Learned.

In July 2010, CMSS will host, in cooperation with Helmut Schmidt University, a summer symposium examining how strategic issues and decisions impact tactical outcomes. Participants will include Canadian and international scholars, with presentations to be published.

Funding priorities for 2010-11 include increased funding for graduate students, conference and publication support, expanded teaching initiatives and collaborative research projects. As stated previously, long-term funding solutions for the Centre remains a top priority for CMSS in the coming year and it is expected that an official fundraising campaign be launched in April/May 2010.

Observations

SDF funding has been instrumental to the scholarly environment for graduate students and researchers at CMSS. SDF funding directly supports graduate students and post-doctoral fellows to present their research at scholarly conferences, and CMSS dedicates $15,000 annually in scholarship funding to CMSS students through SDF funding. SDF funds a portion of the administrative staff at the Centre and provides conference travel funds and thesis research awards to assist students in their academic careers.

The CMSS faculty, staff, and students wish to acknowledge the ongoing support of the Department of National Defence, and particularly thank members of the office of the Directorate of Public Policy for their assistance. We appreciate and recognize the work of the SDF Selection Committee members in reviewing and providing feedback on the annual reports. The research, teaching, outreach, and educational opportunities at SDF Centres across Canada contribute significantly to the debate on defence and security issues facing Canada. SDF funding and recognition of this work is paramount to the continuation of the program.

As noted in previous years, professors at the University of Calgary are no longer required to complete annual reports for the University and, as such, gathering information for the SDF annual report has proven more difficult.

With closer relationships with the SDF program in Ottawa and other SDF Centres of Expertise, CMSS looks forward to being a leader in military, security and defence studies in the years ahead.

Describe the relationship and work of research associates

CMSS fellows are invaluable to the Centre. Many are prominent scholars, practitioners or other experts invited to assist the Centre in pursuing its work on a variety of projects. They are engaged in research relating to the Centre's focus on military, strategic and security issues. Fellows are involved in teaching, research, and possibly supervisory roles at CMSS.

Describe the accomplishments of post-doctoral fellows

The Centre welcomed Dr. Or Honig J.L. Granatstein Post-Doctoral Fellow in September 2009. Dr. Honig’s research focuses on terrorism and counter-terrorism and strategic studies. He has been active collecting evidence for a new book on democracies’ restraint in the face of terrorist attacks, the Israeli portion of which has been submitted to Security Studies. In addition, Dr. Honig is writing an article on civil military relations in authoritarian regimes.

Following the completion of his Post-Doctoral fellowship, Dr. Patrick Lennox continued on with his research on Canada-US relations here at CMSS until October 2009. He accepted a position as Senior Analyst with the Treasury Board Secretariat of Canada, International Affairs, Security and Justice Division in Ottawa.

Media Background Briefings

Centre Fellows continue to provide background briefings to the media on a number of security issues. It has proven time consuming to gather complete data on all media communications and requests. The Centre receives reports (as shown above in the Media Contact section) from the University of Calgary's External Relations regarding media coverage for Centre Fellows, often times it is difficult to differentiate between the background briefings and the interviews in the reports received.

2.7 Outreach Strategy: Briefly outline how the Centre attempted to meet the outreach strategy outlined in the five-year funding proposal

Over the duration of the five-year funding proposal, CMSS will maintain and enhance its outreach strategy, involving the following:

- Maintaining and enhancing the CMSS website, including the electronic newsletter, and Journal of Strategic Studies;
- Continuing proactive and reactive relations with the news media;
- Continuing to support the Canadian Military Journalism course, developed by CMSS in conjunction with the Canadian Defence and Foreign Affairs Institute;
- Engaging with Parliament as well as its delegations and committees;
- Expanding awareness of security and defence issues to the general Canadian public. CMSS faculty, fellows, associates, and students will speak to Canadians off-campus, including at other post-secondary educational institutions in Alberta and across Canada, Calgary-area high schools, community groups, town halls, related non-governmental associations, societies, foundations, and institutions, museum functions, libraries, military gatherings, and other outreach activities;
- Engaging non-traditional audiences in outreach nationally and internationally.
